Power Struggles –

How to Define, Identify and Avoid Them

This presentation defines a power struggle and shows you how to identify when you're in one. It also teaches a system for resolving power struggles, and for making changes to help avoid them in the future.

Your Key to a Better Life:

Your Mind-Body Connection

Neuroscientists estimate that we are only aware of 5% of our brain's cognitive activity. This means we're making decisions about our lives while unaware of 95% of what motivates us.

This presentation introduces a simple and effective technique for exploring the power of our unconscious thoughts, and includes demonstrations of how using this mind-body connection can improve our daily lives.

Saying Goodbye to Good People without Saying Goodbye to Good Memories

When we avoid dealing with the pain of a lost relationship, we are prevented from experiencing the memories it created. This presentation discusses how to accept the end of a relationship - regardless of the way it ended - so we have access to the good memories and the life lessons it gave us.

Healthy Vs. Toxic Relationships:

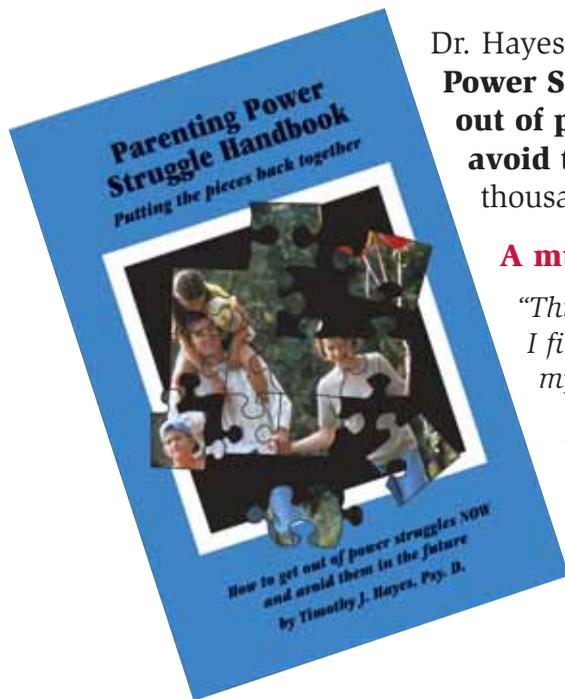

How to Know the Difference and Choose Wisely

This presentation teaches a process for assessing relationships for their enriching aspects as well as their toxic ones. It also provides tools for changing relationships when they can be changed, and eliminating relationships when they cannot be made nurturing.
